

Louisiana Buyer Agreement Compliance Guide

Louisiana requires clear agency disclosure, and under the 2024 nationwide rules a signed buyer representation agreement must be in place before you tour a property. Threshold gives Louisiana agents the buyer representation agreement on their phone — guided, signable, and exportable — so you can get a buyer under agreement the moment they're ready.

What changed for Louisiana agents

Louisiana agents already work within the Louisiana Real Estate Commission's agency rules. Since August 17, 2024, agents working through an MLS also need a signed buyer representation agreement before showing a home. Threshold lets you handle disclosure and the written agreement together, right when you meet the buyer.

The Louisiana form

In Louisiana, buyer representation is documented with written buyer representation agreement. Confirm the current version with your broker and the Louisiana Real Estate Commission — form names and revisions change over time.

Every written buyer agreement should include

- A signature before touring. Agents working through an MLS need the agreement signed before showing a home — in person or virtually.
- A specific compensation amount. The figure must be objective and agreed with your buyer — not open-ended, and not more than you both set.
- Clear scope and dates. The scope of representation and the time period should be spelled out, using written buyer representation agreement.
- The buyer's signature on file. Keep a signed copy you can produce for your brokerage or a compliance check.

A simple compliant workflow

1. Set expectations early. Explain buyer representation and why an agreement is required before you tour homes together.
2. Present the agreement. Walk the buyer through written buyer representation agreement.
3. Agree compensation in writing. Enter a specific, objective amount you and the buyer accept.
4. Sign before the first showing. Capture buyer and agent signatures — then you're clear to tour.
5. Store and share. Keep the signed copy and export a PDF to your brokerage and buyer.

Louisiana buyer agreement FAQ

Do Louisiana real estate agents need a written buyer agreement?

Under the 2024 nationwide rules, agents working through an MLS must have a signed buyer representation agreement before touring a home, alongside Louisiana's existing agency-disclosure requirements. Threshold makes that agreement quick to complete and sign.

What buyer agreement does Threshold support for Louisiana?

Threshold provides a guided written buyer representation agreement for Louisiana agents, consistent with Louisiana Real Estate Commission agency rules, with every required field walked through step by step.

Can I sign the buyer agreement on my phone in Louisiana?

Yes. Complete the agreement with your buyer, capture signatures on-screen, and export a PDF for your brokerage or client — no printing or scanning.

Does the agreement have to state compensation?

Yes. The written buyer agreement must state a specific, objective compensation amount agreed with your buyer. Threshold captures it in a dedicated compensation step so it's never left ambiguous.
